Heathkit item for sale. It is the SA-2500 autotuner. This is a kilowatt+ antenna tuner that tunes automatically to your antenna. These are quite hard to find and really cool! This one is in very good condition with just a few paint flaws. It covers 1.8 to 30 MHz. It has two preset positions for each band (including WARC bands.)

Picked up the SA-2500 from a SK shack. Heathkit brown, and definitely not for a small shack. WOW! It is BIG, bigger than my amps, bigger than my radios, but it is capable of amazing matching. As a test I attached an 8 foot wire at 6 feet, OK for 10m, but it was able to tune on 80m without a complaint.

I have the manual and the illustration book as pdf's. Neither has a plain schematic, but the illustration book shows the parts layout, circuit "x-ray" views with components and traces and a block diagram. Will that help? It is available on mods.dk as "SA-2500 Illustrations.zip", otherwise I can google drive or email it.
